MOREAU showed the way along the inside, was clearly ahead through the first turn, became encroached upon by RYTHM 'N BLUES up the backstretch, began to edge clear of that one through the far turn while still in hand, met his final bid at the top of the lane and did battle through the finish and was just able to hold on. RHYTHM 'N BLUES chased the pace two wide through the first turn, ranged up while travelling up the backstretch to attend the pace but was shook off soon after entering the far turn, came under a ride at the three-eighths to move back up to challenge the pace at the top of the stretch, fought for supremacy down the lane but was ultimately bested. CHIRON trailed four wide through the first turn, continued up the backstretch along the inside, began nudging along inside the seven-sixteenths but was only able to pass a tiring foe. EXTRADITION tracked the pace three wide, coaxed along and never posed a bid, weakened to last in the stretch.
